Item 10: Discussion and Possible Action Concerning Political Reform Act Revision Project

Ms. Fulhorst reported that the Fair Political Practices Commission [FPPC] recently announced that it will undertake a project in 2016 to streamline and simplify the sections of the Political Reform Act that address campaign, lobbying, and ethics laws. This announcement came shortly after this Commission formed an ad hoc subcommittee to consider how the Commission might harmonize local campaign laws with state laws. Because current state laws governing advertising disclaimers are complicated and inconsistent, the subcommittee determined that the full Commission should consider whether to recommend changes to these laws in connection with the FPPC project.

She directed the Commissioners' attention to a five-page summary of existing state and local laws associated with advertising disclaimers in the meeting backup materials, and provided an overview of the recommendations set forth in the staff report.

Commissioner Voorakkara inquired about the timeline for the FPPC project. Ms. Fulhorst responded that the project is underway, and that the FPPC plans to distribute an initial draft this summer. Commissioner Voorakkara expressed his desire for staff to proactively commence conversations with FPPC staff.

Commissioner Baber commented about the disclosures required on advocacy telephone calls and the distinction between scientific polls and push polls. He related that, in his experience, 400 to 600 is almost always the sample size for telephone polling, regardless of the size of the jurisdiction. Ms. Fulhorst suggested that the Commission could ask the FPPC to study and possibly increase the thresholds for advertising disclaimers on phone calls (200 for independent expenditures and 500 for all other calls).

The Commissioners expressed general support for the recommendations in the staff report. Ms. Fulhorst advised the Commission that she would be in touch with the Legislative Director at the FPPC to determine whether the agency would be receptive to these suggestions in connection with its ongoing project.

Item 11: Adjourn to Closed Session

Vice-Chair Fuller adjourned the meeting to closed session at approximately 5:30 p.m. He stated the Commission would reconvene into open session following the conclusion of closed session in order to report any action taken during the closed session portion of the meeting.
