The Piggly Wiggly Building is a one-story commercial building with a flat roof and parapeted walls. There are six stores along the front facade and one store on the north facade. The storefronts have recessed metal frame glass doors. Aluminum frame windows have replaced some of the plate glass windows along the front. Large tripartite casement and fixed windows are found along the north facade. Twin hopper windows with wooden frames are placed on the basement level. Black ceramic tiles cover the area around the entrance. Many of the building's original art deco details have been preserved including its smooth stucco surface and the vertical emphasis on the geometrical motifs. Major alterations include: three corrugated aluminum shed roofs projecting from the front facade, pressed stone mosaic on the front walkway and stairway and the wood facade on the storefront on the south. A small parking lot lies in front of the stores. It is in Good-to-Fair condition. The total usable floor area is 12,980 square feet. The total lot area is 16,845 square feet. Individually Significant.

This two-story building was designed in the Eclectic style and features a front-gabled roof and a one-story commercial addition at the front of the building. The storefront features a glass-and-metal door to the east with large storefront windows to the right. An opening at the west end of the façade leads to the stairs to the second floor with shed-roof overhang over the entry and a faceted bay window under the gable end. It is in Fair-to-Poor condition. Non-Contributing.

Although the architectural merit of this building has been compromised, the building may be a socially significant historical site as the building is a good example of Eclectic Vernacular and is a good example of mixed-use development.

This high water storage tank is supported by 12 steel piers, all of hand riveted steel. The tank is 54 feet in diameter and is 52' 3" high excluding the lighting rods. The tank bottom is 50 feet above ground level and a hemispherical bottom drops 27 feet below the exterior walkway. The entire height of the structure (excluding lighting rods) is 127' 5-1/2". The tank is capable of holding over 1,200,000 gallons of water, which is distributed out of its base through a 12" pipe. A conical cap with an overhanging rim crowns it. A metal wind turbine has replaced an original brass finial at its apex. It is in Good condition. The total lot area is 109,257 square feet. Individually Significant.

Claimed to be the largest municipal elevated water tower in the US on its completion, this structure replaced a smaller water tower located on the same site (1909-1923). The design of the structure represents construction technology of 1924 and is the only girder pier supported water tower in the city at this date. The Water Tower and Folsom Tennis Courts were identified as "potentially eligible for nomination to the San Diego Historical Site Board Register" by the North Park Redevelopment Project.

* P3a. Description: (Describe resource and its major elements. Include design, materials, condition, alterations, size, setting, and boundaries.)

This Spanish Colonial Revival church complex is designed with Spanish Romanesque detailing. The church complex consists of five integrated sections: the two-story high gabled main auditorium, the central four-story hipped roofed stepped tower, the truncated roofed two-story auditorium, the single story arcaded front entryway, and the one-story California Bungalow which is connected to the south end of the arcade. The entire complex, except for the bungalow, is faced with brick veneer and covered with red tile roofing material. Romanesque-style arched windows with arched brick voussoirs are situated throughout the complex. A notable feature of the main auditorium is its three-arched, tow two porthole, and other stained glass windows designed by Fred Wieland. The dominant tower originally was capped by a domed belfry with an illuminated cross. A metal cross now tops the apex of the tower's roof. It is in Good condition. The total lot area is 20,992 square feet. Contributing.

A one-story, California Bungalow is also located on the church parcel and features a symmetrical façade with side-gable roof, a front-gabled entry porch with paired, round columns, and wood-sided exterior. A three-part wood window with multi-pane center section flanked by 4-over-1 double-hung windows is located on either side of the wood-and-glass door entry which is flanked by multi-pane sidelights.

Grace Lutheran Church, Parsonage & Sunday School Buildings were designated as a San Diego Historical Landmark (#293) in December 1990.

This reinforced concrete, Spanish colonial revival styled church complex surrounds a landscaped garden. The church's sanctuary, parsonage, as well as other assembly and educational buildings surround this area. Gabled red tile roofs top all of the church structures. The main structure, the two-story sanctuary/nave, occupies the northwest corner of park blvd and Lincoln Avenue. The inscribed lintel over the recessed arched doorway of the western entrance is flanked by twin angles with outstretched wings. An octagonal turret atop the southwest corner of the nave's facade was removed in 1989. Three narrow, recessed stained glass windows, topped by trefoil designs, grace the facade. Other ornate stained glass windows are throughout the buildings. Stucco buttressed walls, gothic arches, and decorated columns also enhance the complex's Spanish gothic ambience. It is in Good condition. The total lot area is 50,530 square feet. Individually Significant.
