The La Madrid Apartments is a U-shaped garden apartment court consisting of a six-flat, two-story units to the rear with two single-story Spanish Colonial Revival style duplexes on either side of its narrow, semitropical garden courtyard. Situated on either side of the central concrete stairway are street-level parking garages. Spanish Colonial Revival detailing is present in the apartment court's hipped red-tile roofs over the corners of the duplexes, wrought iron balconets, and stucco-clad exterior. Single- terra cotta canales pierce the base of the parapets. Fenestration consists of several double-hung wood-frame windows with single-sash lowers and multi-light uppers. A distinguishing feature of the rear six-unit flat is its hipped red tile roofed "belfry" which actually contains a church bell. It is in Good condition. The total usable floor area is 5,994 square feet. The house features 14 bedrooms and 10 bathrooms. The total lot area is 8,499 square feet. Contributing.

* P3a. Description: (Describe resource and its major elements. Include design, materials, condition, alterations, size, setting, and boundaries.)

The St. Augustine Chapel and Monastery, one of three buildings on the block campus, was designed in the Spanish Colonial Revival style by architects Frank Mead and Richard Requa. The stucco-clad building was built in a 'H' design with very simple lines. The church, which is at least two stories high, has a flat roof with a bell tower in the southeast corner. The tower roof is pyramidal, bearing a cross on its peak. The roof is covered by red ceramic tile. The windows are all square casement windows. An arcade connects the original structure with an addition built in the 1930s. There is a courtyard between the two buildings. The total lot area is 325,829 square feet. Individually Significant.

This two-story building was designed in the Spanish Colonial Revival style and features a red-tile side-gabled roof over the two story section of the building, a central red-tile front-gabled wing with large, single-pane arched windows, a red-tile shed-roof entry porch with arched openings, and stucco-clad exterior. An incompatible bay window is to the left of the central gabled wing and a single-pane casement window is to the right of the entry. The second floor, which appears to be a later addition, includes double-hung windows to the left of the chimney and a wood-and-glass door that opens out onto a second-floor balcony. It is in Fair-to-Poor condition. The total usable floor area is 1,870 square feet. The house features 3 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms. The total lot area is 5,846 square feet. Contributing.

This two-story building was designed in the Craftsman style and features a red-tile hipped roof, a central entry porch with red-tile hipped roof, arched openings, and a second-floor balcony above, and textured stucco exterior. A three-part wood window with single-pane center section flanked by double-hung windows is located on either side of the facade on the first and second floors. A central door on the second floor leads out onto the balcony over the entry porch. It appears as though this building was original designed in the Craftsman style but updated with red-tile roof and stucco-clad exterior in the 1940s to reflect the Spanish Colonial Revival design esthetic. It is in Fair condition. The total usable floor area is 2,056 square feet. The house features 4 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms. The total lot area is 6,011 square feet. Contributing.
