ITEM – 8: IMPLEMENTING SAN DIEGO FORWARD: THE REGIONAL PLAN
City Council District: All Plan Area: Region-wide

Staff: Coleen Clementson, Principal Planner for SANDAG

The San Diego Association of Governments (SANDAG) is the region’s primary public planning, transportation, and research agency. SANDAG also administers TransNet, the voter-approved half-cent sales tax for transportation. This program has supported completion of more than 650 highway, transit, bike and pedestrian, habitat conservation, local street repair, and grant projects and programs that kept San Diego moving forward. In October 2015, the SANDAG Board of Directors approved San Diego Forward: The Regional Plan after three years of extensive public engagement. The Regional Plan is a path forward for San Diego County that will build on and add more choices to our region’s transportation system. SANDAG is currently considering a ballot measure that would raise funds to help implement the Plan, and possibly support other needed infrastructure throughout the region. If the SANDAG Board decides to place a measure on the ballot, it would ask voters in San Diego County to increase our local sales tax by up to one-half cent. Coleen Clementson, SANDAG Principal Planner, will highlight projects planned in the City of San Diego, describe what might be included in a expenditure plan for a ballot measure, and what steps are being taken to engage the public.
