

Quarterly Community Policing Report

SAN DIEGO POLICE DEPARTMENT
CHIEF OF POLICE
SHELLEY ZIMMERMAN

As the Chief of Police for America's Finest City, I am pleased to present to you the San Diego Police Department's Second Quarter Community Policing Report. This report highlights the many ways we collaborate with our community to set the national model for community policing.

Public Safety is a shared responsibility between our police officers, professional civilian staff, volunteers and the community whom we so proudly serve. Community policing provides the greatest opportunity for keeping our streets safe. Our community partnerships are essential for designing and implementing crime prevention strategies and problem solving measures. It is the police and the community working together to address crime fighting and quality of life issues that fosters the highest level of public trust and safety. This working relationship has helped San Diego keep its reputation as one of the safest large cities in the United States.

I am extremely proud of the men and women of the San Diego Police Department for the tremendous work they do each day. I am equally proud of our great citizens here in San Diego. Together we are making a positive difference in our city. This report illustrates all the hard work and community involvement our officers do every day. From the neighborhood watch meetings to the annual Shop With A Cop event, we are committed to working together with our community to ensure San Diego remains America's Finest City.

Shelley Zimmerman

SAN DIEGO POLICE DEPARTMENT

Quarterly Community Police Report

No police department is large enough to keep a community safe on its own. Effective crime prevention requires the active support of citizens and a partnership between police and the community. The San Diego Police Department is dedicated to developing, building, and maintaining community partnerships throughout the city. Our Community Policing efforts are the foundation of those partnerships.

We accomplish our community policing strategy in a variety of ways but most can be put into four categories:

- I. Community Partnerships- The meetings we have to discuss public safety, crime statistics, and quality of life issues.
- II. Community Involvement- The events we participate in throughout the city to foster community relationships. Our ride-along program is an integral part of this.
- III. Community Outreach- The ways we provide awareness, education, and information to the community about public safety, crime trends, and crime prevention.
- IV. Community Givebacks- The volunteering and charity efforts we participate in inside and outside our normal work hours.

Below highlights many of the ways we have attended and/or participated in community events during the second quarter, October 1, 2015 through December 31, 2015:

I.	Community Partnerships:	436
II.	Community Involvement :	484
III.	Community Outreach:	178
IV.	Community Giveback:	42

Volunteer Services -No police department is large enough to keep a community safe on its own. Effective crime prevention requires the active support of citizens and a partnership between police and the community. Community policing is an important foundation of the San Diego Police Department. What makes San Diego's approach to community policing unique is the extent to which the police department has made volunteers an integral component of its program.

The San Diego Police Department is viewed as a leading force in law enforcement innovations occurring across North America. The Department's adult and youth volunteer workforce has approximately 700 members. These volunteers play a vital role in the department's vision to engage the community in a problem solving partnership that will reduce crime and positively affect the quality of life in all communities.

The San Diego Police Department has used volunteers for a wide variety of job assignments for many years. Programs throughout the Department are considered models in volunteerism in the public sector. Volunteers are essential to Department operations. They help provide a level of customer service that could not be achieved by the Department's staff alone. Volunteers represent all segments of society. The variety of functions performed by this police department affords opportunities for people with varied interests and skills. The San Diego Police Department's Volunteers in Policing (VIP) program offers a unique opportunity for citizen volunteers to become actively involved in providing efficient, effective, and responsive service to our community.

The use of volunteers includes Crisis Interventionists, Retired Senior Volunteer Patrols, Volunteers in Policing, Reserve Officers, Police Cadets, and various support staff positions that enhance the organization's effectiveness. This is a result of two decades of change in policing philosophy that has heralded San Diego as a pioneer in many areas of law enforcement.

The San Diego Police Department has a significant resource available in the San Diego community: individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve as volunteers. In a time of limited financial resources and increasing demands for services, it is important that volunteer opportunities continue to be identified and this resource increasingly utilized.

Currently, The San Diego Police Department has 96 active Crisis Interventionists, 333 RSVPs, 21 Reserve Officers, 104 VIPs, and 63 Cadets. Our RSVPs contributed 27,690 hours this quarter. Crisis Interventionists responded to 159 callouts assisting 850 people, worked 4,324 hours, and were on call and prepared to respond for an additional 1,263 hours; our Reserve Officers worked a total of 1,497 hours; our VIPs contributed 4,940 hours; and our Cadets volunteered approximately 1450 hours.

Ride-Along Program (231) -The Ride-Along Program is a powerful community involvement tool that enables an officer to showcase to citizens who live, work, or go to school in the officer's area of responsibility the daily duties of a police officer. It enables citizens to get a first-hand look at policing and to better understand the role of the police. It increases the opportunity for more effective problem solving, and it enhances mutual understanding and cooperation and leads to an improved police/community relationship.

Community Partnerships

Alternatives to Detention (ATD) (1) – ATD is for the placement of juvenile misdemeanor offenders into an alternative location other than Juvenile Hall (i.e. cool bed). Representatives are available to respond to the officer's location to conduct an assessment of the juvenile for placement. With parental consent, the juvenile will be placed in a home. JA staff and JST Officers attend meetings to discuss juvenile issues and laws. JA staff is currently scheduling training for JST Sergeants in order for them to provide training at their prospective divisions.

Joint Interagency Meeting (2) – Monthly meetings presented by the Juvenile District Attorney's office. Multiple county law enforcement agencies attend this meeting in order to receive updates on laws regarding juveniles and training on various programs.

Live Well San Diego (1) – This organization is sponsored by the Healthy Communities Central Region and concentrates on improving the health of residents, ensuring residents are protected from crime and abuse, neighborhoods are safe, communities are resilient to disasters and emergencies, and cultivating opportunities for all people to grow, connect, and enjoy the highest quality of life. JA attends monthly meetings to advise board and community members on safe practices, crime prevention, and disaster preparation.

Restorative Justice Mediation Program (1) – The Restorative Justice program views crime as harm to the victim and the community. They insist on offender accountability, address victim's needs, attempts to repair the harm, and seeks to bring both parties together for restitution that is mutually agreeable. JA participated in one case with this program.

Juvenile Justice Coordinating Council (JJCC) (1) – In an effort to ensure coordination and collaboration among the various local agencies serving at-risk youth and young offenders, the JJCPA legislation requires the county Juvenile Justice Coordinating Council (JJCC) to develop and modify the plan. The JJCC is chaired by the county's chief probation officer and its members include representatives of law enforcement and criminal justice agencies, the board of supervisors, social services, education, mental health, and community-based organizations. The JJCC meets periodically to review program progress and evaluation data.

Interagency Safety Committee (2) – The Interagency Safety Committee meets monthly to work on safety and quality of life issues for juveniles in the neighborhoods of City Heights. The committee is chaired by The Institute for Public Strategies and attend by representatives various community groups, San Diego Unified School District, the San Diego Police and San Diego City School's Police Department.

Cultural Arts Alliance (2) – This program is designed to provide early intervention to deter juvenile offenders from further involvement in the justice system and to reduce the costs that are associated with the prosecution of the offender. The emphasis is on skill development and positive choices to assist the juvenile from further involvement in the Juvenile Justice System. JA has been attending monthly meetings to assist in developing a curriculum for the diversion program and to come up with an agreeable MOU with the San Diego Police Department.

Juvenile Diversion (1) – The Juvenile Administration unit works in an ongoing effort with multiple Community Based Organizations. It is designed to bring the latest and most updated Diversion programs to the San Diego Police Department. Diversion is set up for low level offenders to be an alternative to the juvenile justice system.

Community Involvement

Junior Charger Training Camp (2) - Juvenile Administration worked in conjunction with Star/Pal to offer youth football camps at various locations.

Annual Fishing Derby (1) - Juvenile Administration worked in conjunction with Star/Pal and other law enforcement agencies to provide inner-city youths the opportunity to learn the sport of fishing with a 1 day clinic at Chollas Lake.
