FEATURING OUR CRIME FREE MULTI-HOUSING PROGRAM

“OUR COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP IS HELPING KEEP ILLEGAL ACTIVITY OFF RENTAL PROPERTIES.”

SAN DIEGO POLICE DEPARTMENT
CHIEF OF POLICE
SHELLEY ZIMMERMAN

As the Chief of Police for America's Finest City, I am pleased to present to you the San Diego Police Department's FY2018 Second Quarter Community Policing Report. This report highlights the many ways we collaborate with our community to set the national model for community policing.

Public Safety is a shared responsibility between our police officers, professional civilian staff, volunteers and the community whom we so proudly serve. Community policing provides the greatest opportunity for keeping our streets safe. Our community partnerships are essential for designing and implementing crime prevention strategies and problem solving measures. It is the police and the community working together to address crime fighting and quality of life issues that fosters the highest level of public trust and safety. This working relationship has helped San Diego keep its reputation as one of the safest large cities in the United States.

I am extremely proud of the men and women of the San Diego Police Department for the tremendous work they do each day. I am equally proud of our great citizens here in San Diego. Together we are making a positive difference in our city. This report illustrates all the hard work and community involvement our officers do every day. From our community meetings to our Crime Free Multi-Housing Program, we are committed to working together with our community to ensure San Diego remains America's Finest City.

Shelley Zimmerman

INTRODUCING SDPD's CRIME FREE MULTI-HOUSING PROGRAM

The City of San Diego's Crime-free Multi-housing (CFMH) Program is a FREE program and a win-win crime prevention tool for apartment communities. The CFMH Program is successful because it approaches crime on many levels. The Police Department can't solve crime alone, and neither can management staff or residents of rental properties. However, by working together, the end result has been the most successful approach to deterring crime in rental properties.

There are three ways criminal activity occurs on a rental property:

- 1. The criminal lives there.*
- 2. The criminal visits a friend or family member who lives there.*
- 3. A criminal comes to the property and commits a crime.*

The Crime-free Multi-housing Program addresses all three of these possibilities. By implementing the CFMH Program, property owners and management staff reduce the likelihood of crime and reduce the number of visitors who come to the property with criminal intent, such as to purchase or sell drugs.

Integral to the CFMH Program are the Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) principles that, when implemented, help to deter crime from occurring on the property, including in parking lots and the common areas.

Social Advocates for Youth (SAY) San Diego (www.saysandiego.org), a Social Services Agency, is a collaborative partner with the San Diego Police Department to administer the CFMH Program. The relationship between SDPD and SAY San Diego, under a Memorandum of Understanding, is unique and ensures successful implementation of the CFMH Program and long-term support to the management staff at apartment communities within the program. The CFMH Program consists of three phases that are implemented under the supervision of the San Diego Police Department. Property managers become certified after completing Phase I Manager Training, and the property becomes certified upon successful completion of Phase II CPTED & Phase III Resident Engagement.

Phase I Manager Training: Facilitated by a Certified Crime-free Coordinator, it is an eight-hour class that owners, managers, security and maintenance staff are invited to attend.

Phase II CPTED Inspection: An inspection to determine if the property meets the principles of Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design.

Phase III Resident Engagement and Full Certification: A safety social facilitated by the Community Relations Officer (CRO) and a SAY San Diego staff member. This event provides an opportunity for residents to become familiar with the CFMH Program and to understand that they are partners in keeping themselves and the property safe. The property receives certification and a sign for the building. Certification is renewed annually.

If law enforcement, property managers and residents make a dedicated commitment to the Crime-free Multi-housing Program with the principal guideline of crime prevention, the result will be safer apartment communities.

If you would like more information about the Crime-free Multi-housing Program, please contact one of the Program's Coordinators:

No police department is large enough to keep a community safe on its own. Effective crime prevention requires the active support of citizens and a partnership between police and the community. The San Diego Police Department is dedicated to developing, building, and maintaining community partnerships throughout the city. Our Community Policing efforts are the foundation of those partnerships.

We accomplish our community policing strategy in a variety of ways but most can be put into four categories:

- I. Community Partnerships – The meetings we have to discuss public safety, crime statistics, and quality of life issues.
- II. Community Involvement – The events we participate in throughout the city to foster community relationships. Our ride-along program is an integral part of this.
- III. Community Outreach – The ways we provide awareness, education, and information to the community about public safety, crime trends, and crime prevention.
- IV. Community Givebacks – The volunteering and charity efforts we participate in inside and outside our normal work hours.

Below highlights many of the ways we have attended and/or participated in community events during the second quarter of FY18, October 1st, 2017 through December 31st, 2017:

I.	Community Partnerships:	461
II.	Community Involvement :	309

Community Involvement

Volunteer Services – No police department is large enough to keep a community safe on its own. Effective crime prevention requires the active support of citizens and a partnership between police and the community. Community policing is an important foundation of the San Diego Police Department. What makes San Diego's approach to community policing unique is the extent to which the police department has made volunteers an integral component of its program.

The San Diego Police Department is viewed as a leading force in law enforcement innovations occurring across North America. The Department's adult and youth volunteer workforce has approximately 700 members. These volunteers play a vital role in the department's vision to engage the community in a problem solving partnership that will reduce crime and positively affect the quality of life in all communities.

The San Diego Police Department has used volunteers for a wide variety of job assignments for many years. Programs throughout the Department are considered models in volunteerism in the public sector. Volunteers are essential to Department operations. They help provide a level of customer service that could not be achieved by the Department's staff alone. Volunteers represent all segments of society. The variety of functions performed by this police department affords opportunities for people with varied interests and skills. The San Diego Police Department's Volunteers in Policing (VIP) program offers a unique opportunity for citizen volunteers to become actively involved in providing efficient, effective, and responsive service to our community.

The use of volunteers includes Crisis Interventionists, Retired Senior Volunteer Patrols, Volunteers in Policing, Reserve Officers, Police Cadets, and various support staff positions that enhance the organization's effectiveness. This is a result of two decades of change in policing philosophy that has heralded San Diego as a pioneer in many areas of law enforcement.

The San Diego Police Department has a significant resource available in the San Diego community: individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve as volunteers. In a time of limited financial resources and increasing demands for services, it is important that volunteer opportunities continue to be identified and this resource increasingly utilized.

Currently, The San Diego Police Department has 99 active Crisis Interventionists, 304 RSVPs, 17 Reserve Officers, 70 VIPs, and 53 Cadets. Our Cadets contributed 410 hours this quarter. Our RSVPs contributed 23,012 hours this quarter. Crisis Interventionists responded to 170 callouts assisting 898 people, worked 3,914.5 hours, and were on call and prepared to respond for an additional 2,989.5 hours; our Reserve Officers worked a total of 1,712 hours and our VIPs contributed 3,628 hours.

Ride Along Program (136) – The Ride Along Program is a powerful community involvement tool that enables an officer to showcase to citizens who live, work, or go to school in the officer's area of responsibility the daily duties of a police officer. It enables citizens to get a first-hand look at policing and to better understand the role of the police. It increases the opportunity for more effective problem solving, and it enhances mutual understanding and cooperation and leads to an improved police/community relationship.
