

S

Discover the Cosmos

Students will learn fascinating facts, including how much they would weigh if they lived on Jupiter and what causes craters on neighboring planets. Have you ever wondered about what causes craters?? Learn all this and other fascinating facts about our neighboring planets and discover why our solar system is so unique. Thanks to the Fleet for presenting this program.

T

Intergalactic Coding

Learn how computer programs are created and start coding your own. Students will learn basic computer programming and gain understanding of how our modern world works in this fun and exciting workshop. Thanks to ThoughtSTEM for presenting this workshop.

E

Ozobot Moon Adventure

Students will work in teams to rescue a space ship stranded on the surface of the moon due to a battery failure. Teams will develop codes using markers to guide a mini-robot, called an Ozobot that will retrieve supplies to for this hands-on outer space rescue. Thanks to Microsoft for presenting this workshop.

Build a Mars Colony

NASA plans to send astronauts to Mars in 2030s. In this program, students will investigate if humans can live on the red planet and what would they need to survive. Using recycled materials (cardboard, plastic cups, foam cups, water bottles, toilet paper rolls, paper towel rolls, LEGO pieces, drinking straws, etc.) students will design and build a Mars colony.

M

Glider Landing

Team up with real pilots, engineers, and technicians to learn about the principles of flight, then team up into squadrons and attempt to land your powered balsa wood glider on a replica aircraft carrier using design thinking, physics and flight testing. Thanks to NAVAIR and Aero Ed for presenting this workshop.

Stop for Science!

Drop by any of the Library's 36 locations to "Stop for Science" to learn about what happens When Stars go Boom. This enrichment program consists of a series of posters with accompanying questions to introduce students to our incredibly large and fascinating universe. What is the sun? Do stars live forever? Get answers to these and more questions when you Stop for Science!

BLAST OFF!

Into an Astronaut Training Program

This year's STEAM challenge includes 5 workshops and one poster challenge: complete each mission (in ANY order) and earn a star.

Earn all 6 stars and return your bookmark to your local library to claim your Citizen Scientist Award Medal!

All programs are geared towards ages 9-12 and require registration.

To register, visit: sandiego.gov/steam or stop by your local San Diego Public Library for more information!
