Bringing More Jobs to the Youth | Connect2Careers 3000

Connect2Careers 3000 aims to serve youth on a larger scale, deepening our commitment to youth and young adults through job and career placement. This program would expand the current Connect2Careers program and would help the City of San Diego serve the 19,000 unemployed youth and young adults that live here.

The expansion requires the City and County of San Diego to provide 1,000 jobs/interns each over the course of a year and also asks the private sector to partner in this effort to provide 1,000 job opportunities for youth and young adults.

On June 16, 2016, I spearheaded this effort by bringing this item to the Economic Development & Intergovernmental Relations Committee. I am working closely with the Mayor's office, the County of San Diego, and the San Diego Workforce Partnership to see this effort through by building the city's infrastructure to better serve our youth and young adults.
