The image shows an open notebook with two pages, 96 and 97. Both pages are ruled with horizontal lines. Page 96 has a vertical red line near the left margin, followed by a vertical blue line, and then several more vertical red lines. Page 97 has a vertical red line near the left margin, followed by a vertical blue line, and then several more vertical red lines. The pages are otherwise blank.

The image shows an open notebook with two pages, 98 and 99. Both pages are ruled with horizontal lines. Each page has a vertical red line near the left edge and another vertical red line near the right edge. Between these two red lines, there are several vertical blue lines, creating a series of narrow columns. The pages are otherwise blank.

The image shows an open notebook with two pages, 100 and 101. Both pages are cream-colored and have horizontal ruling. The left page (100) and right page (101) are both divided into columns by vertical lines. On the left page, there are two red vertical lines near the left margin, followed by a blue vertical line, and then several more red vertical lines. On the right page, there are two red vertical lines near the right margin, followed by a blue vertical line, and then several more red vertical lines. The notebook is bound in the center with visible stitching.
